This study abroad program is coordinated by the Northern Illinois University Study Abroad Office (SAO), in cooperation with the NIU College of Health and Human Sciences and Department of Nursing and Health Studies.

PROGRAM DATES: The program will officially begin with a pre-program class in DeKalb Illinois on a date to be determined. Students will arrive Sunday July 9, 2017 in Dublin and will depart on Sunday July 23, 2017. Students will be responsible for making their own air travel arrangements in order to arrive in Dublin on Sunday July 9, 2017. A post-program class will occur in DeKalb, Illinois on a second date to be determined.

PROGRAM DIRECTORS: Jeanette Rossetti, Professor and Kathleen Musker Associate Professor in the School of Nursing in the NIU College of Health and Human Sciences.

Jeanette Rossetti - Professor of Nursing at Northern Illinois University will serve as director of the program. Professor Rossetti's specialty is psychiatric and mental health nursing. She received her Master's in Nursing from St. Xavier University in Chicago, Illinois and her doctoral degree in Adult Education from Northern Illinois University. She is an avid proponent of advocacy and for upholding rights of those hospitalized with mental illness. She is a member of the Illinois Guardianship and Advocacy Commission, Human Rights Authority in the State of Illinois and a member of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association and Sigma Theta Tau International, nursing's honor society. In 2009 she was one of the recipients of the Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching Award for Northern Illinois University and in 2016 she was awarded NIU's College of Health and Human Sciences Fisher Award in recognition of dedication and excellence in community and professional service.

Kathleen Musker Associate Professor of Nursing at Northern Illinois University will serve as co-director of the program. Professor Musker has extensive clinical experience in psychiatric and community health nursing and teaches courses in both areas. She also has a private practice in holistic health counseling. Doctor Musker received an MA in holistic health counseling from John F. Kennedy University in California, and received her PhD in nursing from Loyola University, Chicago. She is a member of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association, the American Holistic Nurses Association, and Sigma Theta Tau International.

Professor Musker's research and other interests include holistic pattern recognition, cultural aspects of psychiatric nursing, and rights of the mentally ill.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW/OBJECTIVES: The primary purpose of this program is to provide participants with the opportunity to explore a variety of healthcare services in Ireland. During this program students will learn about the history of Ireland's health care system and the variety of Ireland's health services. This will include specialties of nursing, public health, and health studies. Students in the College of Health and Human Services and beyond will find the focus of health care services applicable to their academic interests, as well. With a student centered learning approach the co-directors of the program will gear assignments and learning activities to the specialty interests of the program's enrolled students. In addition, students will be exposed to the cultural opportunities that the beautiful country of Ireland has to offer.

PROGRAM SITE(S): The program will take place in Ireland, specifically the cities of Dublin and Galway. Ireland is the westernmost and second largest of the British Isles and is separated from Great Britain by Saint George's Channel on the southeast, the Irish Sea on the east, and the North Channel on the northeast. Politically, the island is divided into Northern Ireland, a constituent part of the United Kingdom (U.K.), and the Republic of Ireland. The island is divided into four historical provinces—Connaught, Leinster, Munster, and Ulster—and administrative units called counties.

Trinity College

While in Dublin students will be staying at Trinity College and while in Galway students will be staying at the National University of Ireland, Galway. Many guest speakers and site visits will occur at these two historical academic institutions.

IRELAND'S HEALTH CARE SYSTEM: Ireland's public health care system is governed by the Health Act of 2004. This act established a new body to be responsible for providing health and personal social services to everyone living in Ireland. The new National Health Service became official on January 1, 2005, but is currently being reformed. In addition to the public-sector, there is also a large private healthcare market in Ireland.

National University of Ireland, Galway

All residents of Ireland are entitled to receive health care through the public health care system, which is managed by the Health Service Executive and funded by general taxation. A person may be required to pay a subsidized fee for certain health care received, but this amount depends on income, age, illness or disability. All child health and maternity services are provided free of charge as is emergency care.

Everyone living in Ireland, including visitors who hold a European Health Card, is entitled to free maintenance and treatment in public beds and voluntary hospitals. Outpatient services are also provided for free. However some people, mostly high-income earners, may have to pay subsidized hospital charges.

Because access to care is granted to all, Ireland's overall satisfaction is in constant battle. Waiting times in Ireland are some the longest in Europe and although Ireland encourages seeing specialists, patience is more so becoming the determining factor when receiving care.

Unlike some other countries', Ireland efficiently allocates government funding, which leads Ireland to see an overall healthier country, low infant mortality rates and only 14.8% of residents in Ireland requiring long term care.

Although there are problems with all countries' health care systems, Ireland does an effective job of procuring a healthy country where all are covered and can receive care when need be.
