JUNE 30 – AUGUST 2, 2019

This will be the 50th anniversary of the first summer program offered by Northern Illinois University and Oriel College. This longstanding program features courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels that are designed to take advantage of the unique resources of the British setting, including the Oxford libraries, theaters of London and Stratford-upon-Avon, and selected cultural and historical field trip sites. Faculty are accommodated close to students and dine in the same halls so that formal class meetings can be supplemented by individual tutorials and informal conversations. Enrollment in all courses is deliberately kept low in order to permit maximum interaction between students and faculty.

PROGRAM DATES

Sunday, June 30 - Friday, August 2, 2019

ORIEL COLLEGE

The program will take place in Oriel College, founded in 1326 and considered to be one of the most beautiful of the 34 colleges that make-up Oxford University. Oxford is less than 60 miles from London and Stratford-upon-Avon, with frequent and inexpensive bus service to both cities. Cambridge, Canterbury, and other places with literary and historical connections are within 100 miles, and there is virtually no place in Britain or, indeed, Europe that cannot be visited on a weekend trip.

INSTRUCTION

The courses will be taught by NIU faculty with Dr. L. G. Black, a Fellow of Oriel College, providing at least one lecture for the Shakespeare courses.

PROGRAM AUDIENCE

Although this is an academic program, it has been designed with a variety of audiences in mind. Non-traditional students (i.e., professionals, individuals with an interest in this subject matter, etc.) as well as currently enrolled students are encouraged to participate in this program. All participants will receive academic credit, and students who are not currently enrolled in an academic program at NIU will be enrolled as visiting students (at the undergraduate level) or Students-at-Large (at the graduate level).

ACADEMIC CREDIT

Each subject is offered at four levels--general undergraduate, undergraduate major, graduate, and advanced graduate--with reading lists and assignments appropriate to each course level. Students should register for the course number appropriate for their situation or needs. All courses carry 3 semester hours of credit. Students must enroll for two courses. Exceptions regarding the number of courses allowed must be reviewed and approved by Professor Ward, College Coordinator.

CLASS SCHEDULES

Classes will meet at hours to be announced (typically, two 2-hour sessions a week for undergraduates with additional conferences for graduate students) Mondays through Thursdays, leaving three-day weekends for study or travel.

ACCOMMODATION AND MEALS

Students will reside in rooms in or near Oriel College. Breakfast will be served daily and dinner will be served each Sunday through Wednesday in the 17th-century Hall. Students will be responsible for the purchase of all lunches, as well as dinners on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Students can arrange access to the College Library and other Oxford libraries. The College has kitchens, laundry rooms, and dry cleaning and other services such as grocery stores and restaurants are available nearby.

FIELD TRIPS

Dr. Timothy Crowley (English, NIU) specializes in Renaissance English literature, religion and politics, classical tradition, and Renaissance Spanish literature. Email: tcrowley@niu.edu

Dr. L. G. Black (English, D. Phil. Oxford University) is a Fellow at Oriel College. His special research interests are Shakespeare and the English Renaissance. He is the Editor of Notes & Queries (founded 1849). Dr. Black will participate in classroom discussions and tutorials with NIU students attending the Oxford program.

SHAKESPEARE

What better place to study Shakespeare than England, while staying at Oxford University with all its cultural and historic attractions? We will take advantage of the program setting in Oxford to attend performances of plays by Shakespeare at the London Globe theater and at the Royal Shakespeare Company in Stratford-upon-Avon, where Shakespeare was born. We will spend our classroom time discussing the plays' texts, including attention to their stage histories in relation to historical and cultural contexts. To enhance this purpose, selected scholarly readings will accompany the assigned primary texts: to varying degrees based on each student's enrollment level (undergraduate and graduate). Such study will enhance our appreciation of Shakespeare's inventions, emphasizing the interrelated nature of textual and theatrical interpretations from the original context through today.

THE BEATLES: A STUDY IN POLITICS AND POPULAR MUSIC

This course focuses on how the music of the Beatles affected, and continues to affect, the political and cultural landscape. Broadly, we will examine how music and musicians confront political and social issues such as war, race relations, and gender discrimination. The Beatles provide an important case study in this phenomenon. John Lennon's political activism—as demonstrated by such songs as “Revolution,” “War is Over (If you Want It),” “Give Peace a Chance,” and “Imagine”—continue to have influence over policy makers and the public at large. President Nixon's secret investigation of Lennon and his attempts to deport Lennon from the U.S. during the 1972 presidential campaign show how musicians can affect the highest levels of government. Paul McCartney's “Blackbird” and Lennon's “Woman is the Nigger of the World” exemplify how musicians can affect civil rights. George Harrison's Concert for Bangladesh was the first benefit concert to aid disadvantaged populations, paving the way for Live Aid, USA for Africa, and other mass fundraising efforts led by musicians. Accordingly, we will supplement Oxford seminars with field trips to Beatles sites in London and Liverpool where students will give presentations on research topics related to the course.

REFUGEES, MIGRANTS, AND THE EUROPEAN UNION

This course will look behind the headlines to make sense of what is happening in Europe today. This will include a historical perspective of migration in the 19th and 20th century, as well as a look at current issues of migration, asylum, and border policies.
